

DEATH TAKES HENRY RUNYAN; RITES SUNDAY

WELL KNOWN MAN PASSED AWAY AT HIS HOME ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

FORMER COUNTY TREASURER

Deceased Was Son Of Pioneer Residents Of Jefferson Township; 86 Years Old

Henry Howard Runyan, age 86 years, well known south Indiana street resident, passed away quietly at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.
Death was due to heart trouble and complications. He had been in failing health for several months but his condition did not become serious until the past three weeks.

He was born in Jefferson township on February 3, 1856, the son of John and Zeriah Allen Runyan, pioneer settlers. He was next to the youngest in a family of thirteen children, a younger sister, Mrs. Alice Shaw, of Putnam county, being the only survivor of this immediate family group.

Mr. Runyan was educated in the country schools. He attended De-Pauw university, then known as Asbury, and also Valparaiso university.
He taught at the old Dunlavy school in Marion township. On April 21, 1880, he was united in marriage to Alice Farmer, and they went to housekeeping on a farm near Fillmore. To this union were born three sons, Roy, who died when a small boy; Earl, who passed away on December 16, 1932, and Ross Runyan, of Greencastle. Mr. and Mrs. Runyan had been married 62 years last April.

The deceased served as trustee of Marion township and later was elected Putnam county treasurer for two terms, 1914-1918. He also engaged in farming for several years and through his activities as a teacher, farmer and public official, had a wide acquaintance and many friends all over Greencastle and Putnam county. He had resided at his south Indiana street address for nearly thirty years.

He is survived by the widow; the one son, Ross, and his sister, Mrs.
Shaw.

Last rites will be held from the Rector Funeral Home at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. Cecil Felders, pastor of the First Christian church, will officiate. Interment will be in Forest Hill cemetery.

Friends may call at the Rector Home.

NUNZIO CANCELLA TELLS OF BOYHOOD IN SICILY TO BANNER REPORTER

Nunzio Cancella last evening talked of his boyhood in Sicily, that large island so near the Italian coast that Sicilians are usually counted just as full-blooded Italians as they would be if they lived on the mainland. Nunzio is a citizen of the United States and has no desire to return to the land of his birth, because his memories of it do not attract him. Past 70 years of age, he has been a resident of America since he became 26 years old, and he has been in Greencastle most of the years that have elapsed since he reached that age.

"I work for 25 cents a day," said Nunzio, speaking of his young manhood in the old country. "That was after I had been in the army for 29 months. I was at Genoa in the army.
All young Italian men have to go into the army."

"I didn't do much in school and I had to go to work, anyway. There were nine bambina and bambino at my father's home. When I was a little fellow, I worked out in the olive fields, picking olives from the ground for 10 cents a day; then I got up to 15 cents, and my biggest money was 25 cents. I had to be at work when the sun got up as high as the mountains and walked six or seven miles to the place where I worked, besides."

Mr. Cancella showed the reporter, in a graphic way, just how he gathered up the olives that had fallen from the trees. "That the way I used to work," he said.

"When I was 26 years old, I told my father I was going to America.
And I started, my first chance. My father was Antonio Cancella and my mother was Antonia."

Mr. Cancella's first knowledge of Greencastle was when he drove his banana wagon over from Indianapolis, one Saturday, secured a peddling license from city clerk G. E. Black-James McD. Hays was mayor—and parked his wagon at the southeast corner of the court house square. He did that every Saturday for some time, then moved here with his family and opened a fruit store. He, too, like his father before him, has nine bambina and bambino. Nunzio is a good citizen.

Red Cross To Make Dressings

WORK WILL GET UNDERWAY AT MASONIC TEMPLE NEXT WEEK

Word has been received by Mrs.
Russell Pierce, chairman of Surgical Dressings for the Red Cross, that an additional assignment of 7,200 pieces of gauze to be made into dressings, size 4x8 for the U. S. army will be shipped to the Putnam county chapter the latter part of September. This is in addition to the 9,000 pieces of gauze which have been received.

Not every community has this opportunity for service since only a limited number of Red Cross chapters have been assigned surgical dressings work. Putnam county women should feel proud that the Surgeon General of the Army has made this request of them. However, it seems that few are realizing the enormity of the task judging from the number of women who have volunteered their services for this work.
It may be that many women who plan to help have not thought it necessary to sign up. For those in charge it would make it easier if they knew the number to be depended upon for each day. We have accepted this job—won't you help?

The Masonic Temple affords a delightful place to work. The room will be open on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons from two until four and Monday night from seven-thirty until ninethirty. In order to complete the quota in the allotted time it will require at least thirty-five or forty women working each two-hour period. If you have not registered and can assist in this project will you please notify Mrs. Russell Pierce, 649, or Mrs. O. J. Stewart, 744-R.

The monitors will meet with Mrs.
Joe McCord at the Masonic Temple at two p. m. on Monday, September 14th for instruction. The surgical dressing room will be open at two p. m. on Tuesday, September 15th for those who have registered for Tuesday afternoon. These workers should come prepared to make dressings.
They should wear wash dresses or cover all aprons and a covering over the hair such as a bandana or gauze covering. Before entering the work room hands must be washed with soap and water. Jewelry and excessive cosmetics are inappropriate in the workroom and smoking is not permitted. Each worker is asked to bring scissors. Please register immediately for next week's work.
Because of activities at the Masonic Temple there may be some conflicts with Monday evening surgical dressing sessions. Those persons who have registered for Monday evening are asked to watch the paper for notices concerning their meetings.

Surgical Dressings—
One woman working a full eight-hour day cannot make enough surgical dressing to supply one badly wounded soldier!

Here, in terms we can readily understand is the story behind the millions of surgical dressings the American Red Cross is making for America's armed forces.

Here, is a job for you. To add your time and energy to that of the thousands of women working in Red Cross chapters producing the surgical dressings which the Army and Navy must have, now!

Russians Still Hold Stalingrad

REDS BATTLE MERCILESS AT-TACK BY NAZI PLANES, IN-FANTRY AND TANKS

MOSCOW, Sept. 12 (UP)—The defenders of Stalingrad were holding today despite merciless and continuous attacks by 1,000 planes, hordes of German infantry and droves of tanks.

No German advance has been ac-knowledgeed either southwest or west of Stalingrad in 24 hours, since the Army Organ Red Star said there was no road of retreat left, and the defenders must fight on until the Nazis were smashed, or until the Russians were all dead.

Front line dispatches and communications reported progress in two Russian offensives, one near Schlusselburg to break the siege of Leningrad, and a second on the central front to wipe out a salient extending toward Moscow.

Funeral services were held this afternoon for Charles A. Thomas, retired clay worker of Carbon, who died Thursday evening. He was 58 years old, and was a brother of Mrs.
Flora Boswell of Greencastle.

DICK TERRY IS HOME FROM FAR EAST ZONE

GREENCASTLE MAN TERRIBLE INURED WHILE FLYING IN BURMA TERRITORY

EXPECTS TO JOIN AGAIN

Signs Up For Selective Service And Hopes Again To Join Military Ranks.

Dick Terry, son of Earl Terry of Greencastle and born here 24 years ago, Putnam county's sole representative in the famed Flying Tigers who were the most noted body of flying fighters the world has ever known, it is claimed, came to Greencastle Friday to recuperate from his recent injuries. He is with Reese Hammond and family, 718 east Washington street, and later will have an apartment down town, he said.

Mr. Terry enlisted in the air corps of the United States army at New York, in 1940, took his training at Mitchell Field, Long Island, and was in line for advancement in that branch of the service when representatives of the Central Aircraft Manufacturing Company came to the field, seeking men to man their planes engaged in service in China, against the Japanese. The company being a civilian organization, army men could not work for them, and Mr. Terry was, at his own request, and with the full concurrence of his army officers, discharged from the army July 16, 1941, after he had entered into a contract with the Aircraft company to work with them in foreign service. A considerable group of his fellow-trainees at the Mitchell field followed the same procedure.

Mr. Terry, although having the position of administration clerk with the Aircraft people and not required to engage in aerial combat, continued his air training with the intention of becoming a combat pilot. He was, however in close contact with the fighting force and knew of all the wonderful achievements of those daring young men who rode the Aircraft ships into battles with the immen-sely superior air forces of the Japanese. He recounts many marvelous stories of the combats in which his fellow-Americans engaged while the Flying Tigers were banded together.
July 4, this year, the personnel of the Flying Tigers, or American Volunteer Group, was merged with the American army air corps.

The terrible injuries received by Mr. Terry, which have been recounted in The Daily Banner before, came when he was flying as a student in an Aircraft ship, piloted by an experienced man, an instructor, but not even his skill could right their ship when it flew into a down draft in a gorge in the mountains some 500 miles west of Kuming, So.
China, January 2, this year.

Mr. Terry's story of the crash of their ship, in which the pilot was killed instantly and he himself received injuries which should, he said, have caused his death, is very unusual but told modestly. Mr. Terry said he saw the ground rushing up toward them at a speed of several hundred miles an hour, as they dived but it seemed to him that they were driving horizontally into a stone wall and when they crashed it was hard for him to realize they had dropped nose down onto the mountain, from a 1,000 feet elevation.

He was unconscious some three hours, and when he finally began to recover consciousness, he found he was hanging head down from a hole in the side of the airplane which he had broken through with his own body, with his legs caught in the body of the ship. The pilot was pushed back onto him, and the motor was on the pilot.

A group of intensely ignorant Chinese provincials were gathered around him, and not one of them sought to aid him until, finally, one old woman showed enough intelligence to realize he was not dead, although he was covered with blood, and it was she who directed the others in releasing him, tying him onto a rude litter, and in carrying him across the mountains to Yuann-yi, where there was a Chinese, Dr. May, who was a graduate of John Hopkins university. That doctor applied splints, and got him a little ease from his pain, and got him started back to his headquarters. He was away from the latter place eight days. The trip was so rough that it was necessary to reapply splints to his injured limbs twenty-four times before he was finally placed in the hospital. One leg was fractured in five places, the other leg was fractured, and his face

Jap Destroyers Hit By Bombers

ONE WARSHIP SINKING; AN-OTHER BADLY DAMAGED
BY ALLIED PLANES

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEAD-QUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 12 (UP)—Allied Flying Fortresses and Lockheed Hudson medium bombers left one Japanese destroyer sinking, its crew struggling in the water, and probably damaged another off the southeast end of New Guinea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

It was indicated that the destroyers were scouting the area off New Guinea in connection with operations at Milne Bay and the enemy drive across the Owen Stanley mountains, where the Australians had now held the Japanese for two days.

The Fortresses and Lockheeds caught two destroyers cruising off Normanby Island, 45 miles north of Milne Bay, where Australians have about completed the mopping up of an enemy invasion force which met disaster when it landed.

Driving in to the attack in the sort of high level precision operations which has made them famous in western Europe, the Fortresses registered a direct hit on one of the destroyers and the Hudson, attacking at low level planted a big bomb so close to the second that it was believed damaged.

RETURN TO WORK

EAST ALTON, Ill., Sept. 12 (UP) —Several thousand workers returned to their jobs in the sprawling Western Cartridge Company plant today, ending a strike which has paralyzed operations at the important munitions factory since Wednesday.

The walkout ended with an agreement between the company and the AFL chemical workers union to place disputed issues before the War Labor Board. A company spokesman said maintenance crews had kept the plant ready for immediate resumption of work and that operations were expected to be in "full swing" during the day.

U. S. Troops In French Africa

AMERICAN TROOPS CHEERED AS THEY MARCH THROUGH FRENCH TOWN

BRAZZAVILLE, Fighting French Equatorial Africa, Sept. 12 (UP)— United States troops marched into a town in French equatorial Africa today to the enthusiastic cheers of the people.

They will be stationed at an undisclosed part of Fighting French Africa, where they will help defend the common interests of the United Nations.

The people were heartened to see the young, sturdy American soldiers, eager to join their French comrades.
European as well as natives were much impressed by their modern equipment.

GAS RATIONING EXPECTED EARLY IN NOVEMBER

PRESIDENT WILL APPOINT A U. S. RUBBER DIRECTOR
ON MONDAY

APPEAL MADE TO AUTOISTS

Drivers Urged To Cut Down Voluntarily Until Gas Rationing Program Starts

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (UP)— Appointment of a war-time czar to gear America's production and use of rubber to needs of the global conflict is expected Monday when most rubber-saving recommendations of the Baruch committee become effective.

The main exception is nationwide gasoline rationing—one of the committees prime objectives which won President Roosevelt's prompt endorsement.

The program will be delayed until necessary machinery is established.
Office of Price Administration officials expect operations can begin early in November.

Until rationing gets underway, it was indicated the nation's motorists will be urged to cut down voluntarily on speed and driving volume.
The Baruch committee already has warned that the public must choose between "discomfort or defeat;" that every unnecessary turn of the wheel is a service to the Axis.

Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference yesterday that a rubber administrator probably would be named Monday but he cautioned reporters not to guess who will be named.
War Production Director Donald M.
Nelson will make the appointment after consultations with the president.

FILLMORE CHURCH PICNIC

The Sunday School picnic of the Fillmore Methodist Church will be held on the Williamson farm east of Fillmore, Sunday, September 13th.

The picnic group will leave the church at 10 o'clock sharp Sunday morning. The service will combine study of the lesson and worship by song, praise and sermon. After the lesson-sermon service, a basket dinner and fellowship will be enjoyed.
Those of the Canaan and Wesley Chapel churches are invited and any others who wish to share in the annual event.

NEAR AGREEMENT

Senate and House leaders neared agreement today on anti-inflation legislation which reportedly would deal specifically with farm prices and wages, rather than grant President Roosevelt unlimited control over rising living costs.

Conferees who met with Mr.
Roosevelt yesterday were unable to reach final agreement and will confer again today.

It was generally conceded that the administration's original plan to seek sweeping authority for the president to impose any control he deems necessary has been dropped and that specific regulations on wages and farm prices will be set forth.

HIRT RITES MONDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Hirt, east Walnut street, who died Friday, will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock from the St. Paul's Catholic Church. Father Thomas Mc-Grath will officiate. Burial will be in Forest Hill cemetery.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

John D. Kemp, soldier, New Castle, and Mary Louise Conrad, at home, Greencastle.

MRS. KNEBEL APPOINTED

Mrs. Mary Lou Schott Knebel has been appointed to serve as director of the food department of the Student Union Building at Indiana State Teachers' College in Terre Haute.
She was formerly home demonstration agent for Putnam county.

and head were badly cut. One hand was broken.

Mr. Terry's route home was by way of India, he said, and "I spent $2,000 getting here." Yesterday afternoon, the same day he arrived in Greencastle, he went to the office of the Selective Service Board in Greencastle, and registered for military service, inasmuch as he is now entirely out of the service. His injuries, while they do not keep him from walking without the aid of even a cane, will, of course, cause his rejection in a possible physical examination for the army, but he, by registering, keeps his record clean. Besides, he said, he has been informed that a year's rest will probably bring him into fighting trim so that he can be accepted for the air corps.

MISS MARY LOUISE CONRAD IS BRIDE OF JOHN DUNCAN KEMP

The marriage of Miss Mary Louise Conrad and Staff Sergeant John D. Kemp, Army Air Corps, Baer Field, Fort Wayne, took place this afternoon at 3:30 in Gobin Memorial church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Conrad of Greencastle. Sergeant Kemp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kemp of New Castle.

Rev. Tennant officiated. Miss Ann Montgomery, Salina, Ohio, sang "Until," and "Still As The Night," preceding the ceremony. The organist was Jack Gillespie.

The bride wore an ivory satin wedding gown cut on princess lines, with a sweetheart neck bordered with seed pearls. Her finger tip illusion veil was crowned with a tiara of orange-blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and orchids. Her going-away dress was a dark green wool two piece suit, with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Dorothy Ann Conrad, who wore a turquoise taffeta gown, trimmed with bronze ribbon, and had matching ribbons in her hair. She carried a bouquet of deep salmon gladioli. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Hickox, Evanston, Illinois, Miss Judy Maddox, Greencastle, and Mrs. C. C. Tucker, Jr., also of Greencastle. They wore bronze colored gowns with silk velvet tops and marquisette skirts, three-quarter length sleeves, and sweetheart necks. They wore single strand pearls, as did the bride and the maid of honor. Their turquoise hair-ribbons matched the dress of the maid of honor, and they carried bouquets of gold and bronze button chrysanthemums. Little flower girl was Dorothy Ann Boyd, who wore a gown of aqua.

John Olson, Shaker Heights, Ohio, was best man. Ushers were members of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Mrs. Conrad, the bride's mother, wore a navy blue jacket dress with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Kemp, the bridegroom's mother, wore black velvet with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Assisting at the reception which was held at the Conrad home were the Misses Elizabeth Anne Cannon, Rachel Gillen, and Mrs. M. W. Cline. Both Sergeant and Mrs. Kemp were graduates of DePauw University with the class of 1941. Mrs. Kemp was a member of Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Theta Tau sororities. Sergeant Kemp was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. The young couple will make their home in Fort Wayne.

Among out-of-town guests attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Eshelman, grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Pike, and Mrs. W. C. Boozie of Marion, Indiana; the Misses Mary Kraezig, Florence Pfeiffer, Rosemary Hagaman, Dorothy Cross, Norma White, Marion White, Mary K. Pritchard, Marguerite Walker, Mrs. R. G. Matzke, Mrs. M. Skomp, and Dr. and Mrs. D. Pierce of Indianapolis; Mrs. Joe Perkins, Dayton, Ohio; Mrs. William Allee, Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fry, Miss Maxine Shelburne and Voyle Conrad of Zionsville, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Compton, Detroit; Mrs. M. B. Edminston, Gary; Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Polk, Miss Judith Ann Ingersoll, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bruce, Miss Barbara Bruce of New Castle; Mrs. Charles Carpenter, Los Angeles, Cal.; and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Huebner, Des Moines, Iowa.

THE STARS OF "CROSSROADS"

The Vancastle is now the junction of the Crossroads to Pleasure and Duty. For, with Bonds and Stamps on sale in our lobby, you can buy two tickets—one to Joy, one to Victory. "CROSSROADS" stars William Powell and Hedy Lamarr no less. This picture was directed by Jack Conway, an M-G-M standby, who gave you "HONKY TONK", "BOOM TOWN" and "VIVA VILLA". "CROSSROADS" is his latest and his most different. But in one sense, it is a hit. William Powell gives a dramatic performance that provides a complete change of pace from his equally brilliant comedy-neas. It is something to see, and Hedy Lamarr is something to see, too. We don't know about you, but Hedy gets us. And if she doesn't get you, there are a lot more like us than like you. (P. S.) "CROSSROADS" opens tonight at 11:00 P. M. at the Vancastle.

RAY HAS HIS TROUBLES IN HILARIOUS COMEDY!

BRIGHT EYES—There's dynamite in that come-hither glance that lovely Patricia Morison has turned on for the benefit of Ray Milland who co-stars as the husband of Betty Field in Paramount's "Are Husbands Necessary?" That comedy film of domestic bliss and bluster opens Sunday at the Granada Theatre. It's one of the year's liveliest laugh fests.

Red's plan, whatever it was, certainly hadn't worked. Red picked up the note Lella had thrown back at him, and fingered it. Suddenly his eyes scanned it. He let out a startled gasp. "Rags—Rowdy—this ain't the note I sent her!" He looked about wildly. "That waiter! We gotta keep our eyes on that waiter!"

"Why?" Rags asked, dumb-founded. "I think we've run into something again—" "Spies!" Rowdy whispered hoarsely.

Red, his fingers to his lips, his eyes darting in search of the waiter, nodded. At midnight, the three set out for the house described in the note. They were filled with brave talk in an effort to bolster up their courage. "You know," Rags offered, "my grandfather was an old sea pirate."

"My uncle came across the prairie in '49," Rowdy boasted. "He never even carried a gun. Used to knock off them Indians with a buggy whip."

"My grandfather fought in the Civil War," Red announced. "He once caught a cannon ball in his bare hand."

"Caught a cannon ball in his bare hand?" gasped Rowdy. "Yeah," Red answered. "Armless Joe they used to call him."

Looming up in the immediate distance was a foreboding two-story, ramshackle house. Buzzards sat on its eaves. Bats flew through the night to circle it. Hoot owls, whippersnappers and crows joined in a mournful dirge.

"That must be it," Red stammered. He glanced at his white faced companions. "Maybe I ought to go back and get my revolver—"

"Where did you leave it?" Rowdy asked hoarsely. "Evanson, Illinois."

The three lunged back, but Red finally worked up courage. "Come on you weaklings," he hissed. He stepped forward, but his knees buckled. Rags and Rowdy grabbed his elbow to support him. Red smiled apologetically. "I washed my legs this morning and I can't do a thing with them," he murmured, then, with superhuman effort, he led the other two into the house.

The moonlight, filtering through the windows, lighted up a shelf of chemicals and a work table, upon which stood an assortment of bottles and test-tubes.

"What are they doing with this stuff?" Rags whispered. "They ain't making fudge!" Red replied. "It's explosive—that's what they're making!"

Rags eyed the door wistfully. "I wish the sheriff would come in here now and give me twenty-four seconds to get out of town—"

But further words froze in his throat. Their eyes, now accustomed to the darkness, perceived a huge wardrobe nearby. As they stared, the doors to the wardrobe opened. But nobody came out! At the same moment, the door to the house opened. Two shadowy figures entered. In a wild scramble the three sailors made for the wardrobe.

One of the newcomers disappeared through the wall, while the other ran outside. She ran through the window in direct line with the wardrobe. The boys dashed out of it and huddled against the wall. Red leaning hard against the wall, suddenly felt it give. In another moment he was outside as the panel on which he had leaned, swung open. He found himself on a ledge staring into a pit from which rose the monstrous, open-jawed head of an alligator.

With something between a shriek and a whiny, he beat against the wall. Rowdy, moving away from the spot he was standing upon inside the house, leaned against the swinging panel. In another moment he was swung outside and Red returned. Together Rags and Red rescued Rowdy. But, no sooner were the three inside the house safely when the rattling of guns resounded from outside and bullets sprayed the walls.

"I don't know what you guys are going to do," Rags wailed, "but I'm going to get out of here before we all get killed—"

In another moment the three rushed to the door, and all but breaking the handle off, opened it, and took to their heels down the dark and dreary road that led them back to Phil's Place.

What lies behind the strange goings-on in the deserted house? Read tomorrow's hilarious chapter.
